- 1. The activity offerings shall be of sufficient variety and number to meet the wide range of interest and needs of our students.
- 2. The schools shall observe a complementary relationship to the home and community, planning a school program with due regard for the widespread and rich facilities already available to our students.
- 3. The assistance of parents in planning the schools' activity programs shall be encouraged.
- 4. The guidance goal for each student shall be a balanced program of appropriate academic studies and activities to be determined by the school, the parents, and the student. This should be a shared responsibility.
- 5. Guidance is necessary to encourage the non-participants who need activities, and to prevent the over-enthusiastic from over-emphasizing activities at the cost of their academic performance.
- 6. Activities which are for public view are to be kept to the minimum necessary for their educational value. Public performances of the activities are to be supervised in order to prevent excessive time and effort expenditures by students. Such performances may not be held for purposes which contribute to private gain or advantage.
